TECHNICAL VISIT TO
XIQU CENTRE on 8th JUNE 2019, Saturday

The HKIOA Indoor Acoustic Sub-committee cordially invites you to join the captioned technical visit scheduled on the morning of 8th June 2019 (Saturday).

About Xiqu Centre

Located on the eastern edge of the West Kowloon Cultural District, the building's striking design, created by Revery Architecture (formerly Bing Thom Architects) and Ronald Lu & Partners, was inspired by traditional Chinese lanterns and blends traditional and contemporary elements to reflect the evolving nature of the art form. Stepping through the main entrance, shaped to resemble parted stage curtains, visitors are led directly into a lively atrium with a raised podium and space for presenting the rich and ancient culture of Chinese traditional theatre.

The building has a total area of 28,164 sq m and houses a Grand Theatre, accommodating 1,073 seats, a Tea House Theatre, with a capacity of up to 200 seats, eight professional studios and a seminar hall, all specially designed for different types of xiqu-related functions and activities. The design details of each of the facilities have also been created in response to the practical requirements and aesthetic features of the art form. A unique feature of the venue is the location of the Grand Theatre at the top of the building, which allows for a large open atrium below with space for exhibitions, stalls, and xiqu demonstrations and workshops.

Speaker

Mr Paul Hennig, Head of Technical Development of WKCDA (西九文化區管理局).
